MERRY CHRISTMAS AND HAPPY NEW YEAR!

I just couldn't resist including this picture of the little Winter village in our living room. Isn't it darlin'?! Charlie would probably not appreciate my using that term, since it is not a "manly" word. However, everything is miniature and qualifies for "darlin'" in my book! We add new pieces each year. Unfortunately, the other day our Blue Heeler went crazy barking at the dogs outside and decided to make a mad dash "over the river and through the woods" to get to the window. We are still gluing some of the pieces back together. Skylar almost met her Maker that day!

I pray your Christmas season has been awesome! It's been pretty hectic this year for me, but I think that may be your story as well. Even still, I am so thankful that my bizarre schedule has born fruit. The Lord has blessed Beautiful Gate Translations since its inception back in the summer of 2002. I look back over the years and see His hand of provision and protection time and again. Take a look at the list to the left and see what has been produced for thousands of folks in at least six countries so far. ONLY GOD could have orchestrated it all. Thank you, thank you, thank you for your prayers and financial support to help make it happen! I am so grateful for your faithfulness in this journey together.

Recently, I had several opportunities to meet some new friends involved in other ministries in Romania. We all look forward to what God has in store for 2009. We can see God is opening new doors, but really want to wait on Him for specific direction. Will you please pray that we will be still and hear His voice? Hopefully, I will be able to share more details soon as the Lord leads.

In closing, I have appreciated every opportunity to share my heart about BGT's purpose as a vessel for God's provision of translated resources to Missionaries and Nationals abroad. Their mission fields are huge, but our God is bigger than all the need. If the Lord leads you to share in BGT's mission this year, your gift will go towards the translation and production of Beth Moore's "Believing God" Bible study. We hope to introduce it this Spring. The ladies in Romania can hardly wait!

With much love and appreciation, Paulette
