TICK TOCK, TICK TOCK...

The clock seems to be ticking faster for me as I prepare for my March 8th departure to Bucharest, Romania. So much yet to do, but I'm pretty sure I will be on that plane whether I am ready or not. I will be very grateful if you would hold me up in prayer. The enemy has come at me and my family these past few weeks. The Romanian team is experiencing quite a bit of Satanic opposition as well. We must remain focused on the Lord and conform to His plans for this conference.

It is very exciting, to say the least, as the whole thing has blossomed into a bigger event than I had originally envisioned. Daniela, Voice of the Gospel radio broadcaster, has taken the lead in conjunction with my dear IMB missionary friend, Diane, to coordinate the Friday evening area-wide women's gathering. The two days of meetings will be broadcast by the VOG, and the East Europe IMB media coordinator will be on hand to provide media coverage. I am really blown away by God's blessing on these events. My prayer is that the Romanian women, the missionaries and I will experience the sweetness of the Lord's presence. I pray all of us will be changed, and will walk away with a more intimate relationship with Jesus, deeper faith and greater hope. As I have so often shared, it's not about ministry, Bible studies, media, nor any other thing. It's about relationship. God with us and all of us with each other. Simple? Yes. Don't you just love it??

This picture is from my December planning trip with three wonderful ladies who are on the conference team. They are fabulous gals with precious servants' hearts. If you would like to keep up with me on the trip, you can access my blog via my website: www.beautifulgatetranslations.org Just click on the "Blog" link on the home page to read my updates and hopefully see pictures, too.

Below are a few prayer requests. Thank you prayer partners! In His grace, Paulette
